Mayor, 3 Councilmen

Incumbents File

Mayor Coleman Duncum and three incumbent city councilmen have filed for re - election at City Hall.

The annual Cameron city election is scheduled for Tuesday, April 3, at City Hall, the only voting box in city elections.

Duncum filed for re - election to a second term as mayor.

Filing for re - election as councilmen were Sam Houston and Starrett Hickman. Councilman Hickman is completing a two - year unexpired term created by the resignation of Richard Moseley last year when he moved to Lubbock.

Councilman Houston is seeking a third term.

B. J. Matocha will be presiding judge.

One other post is up for consideration beside the mayor's position and Hickman and Houston's. It is the post now held by Roy Griffith, senior councilman with about 18 years of Council service. At presstime, Councilman Griffith filed for re - election, city officials said

Hickman's election would only be for one year. After his appointment to fill the post last year, his post has one more year to go. Moseley was elected last April for two years which would have expired in April, 1963.

CAMERON: 330
COUNTY: 2,525
BOTH OFF NORM

Poll tax payments in both city and county show thus far a major lack of interest in 1962 elections.

Poll tax payment deadline is midnight, January 31.

City Secretary John Andres reported 330 city poll taxes paid earlier this week while a normal total is about 850.

Milam Assessor - Collector Valter White's office counted only 2,525 poll taxes paid when a normal election year total is about 4,000.

Comparisons in both City and Milam totals make it apparent that voters have not shown interest in paying poll taxes and being eligible for 1962 elections.

330 CITY POLLS

Paid thus far in Cameron are 330 poll taxes. In 1960, a mayoral election year, 900 city poll taxes were paid. In 1961, there were 780 sold.

City officials say that about 1,500 people are eligible to vote, including those just 21 and those over 60 who need not pay poll tax.

In Milam poll tax totals, 2,125 have been paid in the Courthouse office and another 400 estimated to have been paid at the Rockdale and Thorndale sub - stations.

In the last presidential election year, 1960, there were 4,893 poll taxes paid in the county. In 1958, when the same county offices were up for election that are being considered this year, 4,518 were paid.

ONE THIRD EXEMPT

White's office estimated that about one - third of the eligible voters in Milam County are over 60 and are exempt from poll tax payment.

Poll sax substations are: Gaither Motor Co., in Rockdale, and Max Hengst, in Thorndale.

Both county and city officials said poll tax offices will be open until midnight, Wednesday, January 31. They will also be open until noon Saturday.

Peak election totals were tabulated in the 1958 election when about 6,000 countians voted. The peak vote in the city is about 1,300 votes.

SOMETHING — called ice skates would have been suitable earlier this week.

Cars heading at you sideways were not unusual the first morning of our second freeze. But after a while, Cameronites and Countians got the feel of slick pavement, or took the advice of city and state authorities and stayed off streets and highways.

Truckers going through on deliveries were running eight or 10 hours late. But they were lucky, Others, some said, "slud" into highway ditches."

102 - 102 - 102

The second big norther of the year brought misfortune to two Cameron residents. County Sanitarian D. S. Wimberly broke a hip in a fall. And Bill Love, retired navyman, suffered a broken arm.

102 - 102 - 102

It is probably due to the cold weather that more Milam Countians have not yet paid their poll taxes.

Though no major contests appear to be developing in the Milam area, races for state representative, state senator and numerous state posts through governor are already underway.

If Milam County is to carry her proportionate weight in these multi - county district and state contests, she will have to vote a bigger proportion of her eligible ballots to balance perhaps a similar disinterest in other counties.

If Milam's voice is to be heard, her voice will sound loudest at the ballot box. Record and near-record votes in 1958 and 1960 were significant. But area representation will take as a matter of course our lack of interest if few turn out in 1962.

There is no alarm. But the sustaining factor of a wide - awake area is an enlightened voting public.

School Vote Set; Secretary Resigns

The Cameron School Board Tuesday night set the annual District School Board election for Saturday, April 7 and accepted the resignation of Dr. David Shapiro, board secretary.

Supt. Charles Zeigler said that board members accepted with regret the resignation of Dr. Shapiro, who is leaving Cameron to establish practice elsewhere. His resignation was effective January 18.

And the Board voted to hold the annual election April 7. Two posts are up for consideration; the post vacated by Dr. Shapiro and the post held by Niley Smith.

Board members will meet Thursday night, January 25, to determine whether to make an interim appointment to fill Dr. Shapiro's post or await election of a new member April 7.

In other business last Thursday, Supt. Zeigler was granted a new three - year contract after his current two - year contract was cancelled. He joined the Cameron faculty about a year ago and was named successor to Dr. Earl Knebel last summer.

Representatives of a tax survey concern met with board members, discussing the possibilities of a survey of property valuations in the Cameron Indepednent District. No board action was taken, Supt. Zeigler said.

The firm represented was Andy Capers Co., of Dallas.

Officials noted that this was not an epidemic influenza, but a usual seasonal condition. The Milam Health Unit listed strep throat as the major cause of illness with 33 cases reported by local doctors.

Local Hospitals also blamed cold, icy conditions for two broken limbs resulting from falls Monday. D. S. Wimberly suffered a broken hip in a fall late Monday and William Love was treated for a broken arm.

Principal Talks On YHS Progress

YHS Principal Jerald Underwood Wednesday told Rotarians of projected improvements, based on realism, in Cameron's Yoe High School.

Speaking on the modern philosophy of education, but not "progressive methods", Underwood said that improvements planned include: a reading program for slower readers, greater concentration on quality in education and continuing improvement of an "atmosphere of learning."

"Sure, kids have to work harder and compete more for their education," he told Rotarians, "but real learning is hard work and we tell them so."

YHS IMPROVEMENTS

Introduced by Asst. - Supt. Raymond Adams, the YHS principal also described improvements already made in the halls of Yoe High School

He listed: strengthening of scholastic standards, emphasis on "American Heritage" based on historical fact and realism, required physical education and student guidance programs,

"Jefferson's philosophy or belief in the common man has prevailed in this country," Underwood said, "as opposed to the Hamiltonian attitude of desiring education only for the elite."

He said one of the reasons Germany followed Hitler into dictatorship and world war was because many of Germany's citizens were not educated to participate in their government.

COUNSELING PROGRAM

"Probably our most effective program has been for counseling of seniors this year," Underwood continued, "but we have instituted a student guidance program for vocations as well as colleges."

He went on to describe that homeroom teachers have a 30-minute activities period each day in which the teacher can discuss individual problems and plans with his students.

Elaborating on the YHS program, Underwood said "we accept the challenge of improving and directing our students and faculty. And the administration is making a sincere effort to study improvements and make changes after careful consideration, regardless of the authority recommending it."

County Agents Notes

Animal Health Program Told

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

John S. Batte was elected chairman and Bill Arthur elected secretary - treasurer, of the Miam County Livestock Improvement Association at a meeting held last week at the Methodist Fellowship Hall in Cameron. Some 150 stockmen attended a county wide meeting ably sponsored by the Milam County Farm Bureau.

Bob Lily, Legislative Director for the State Farm Bureau Organization at Austin, was the guest speaker. Lily did an excellent job of explaining the proposed animal health program to be participated in by stockmen on a voluntary basis to control the screwworm in Tex livestock.

The livestock industry of Milam County is one of the keystones of the whole economy of this area. The toll exacted every year by insects, parasites, and disease is staggering. It was at the suggestion of producers themselves that the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation was established so producers would have a vehicle through which they could carry part of the fight cut down this toll,

The Foundation will be financed by Voluntary contributions (may be claimed as operating expenses for income tax purpose) from producers on the following schedule: 50 cents per head for adult beef and dairy cattle, steers and horses; 10 cents per head for each adut swine, sheep or goat. These funds will be used to supplement, where needed, present research facilities and programs rather than replace or duplicate any existing operations.

COMMUNITY MEETINGS TO BE HELD

The first Community meeting was held at Milano on Monday night, January 22. Other meetings will be held at Rockdale, Thorndale, Buckholts, and Sharp. Batte is asking the vocational agriculture teachers in these communities to assist in arranging for these meetings and to assist in getting a chairman for each area to assist in contacting stockmen in these communities. Agriculture Teachers at this meeting were C. Titsworth, Cameron; Albert Timmerman, Rockdale; Elwood Harbers, Thorndale; Shelby Smith, Milano and Gene Beyer of Buckholts.

BRUCELLOSIS PROGRAM TO BE SET UP

Brucellosis is a contagious disease of animals and man caused by a bacteria. In cattle, it has been called Bangs disease. In swine it may be referred to as contagious abortion. It is sometimes referred to as undalant fever in man.

The best solution to brucellosis problem is to clean brucellosis out of the cattle in the county. This was provided for in a law passed by the 56th Legislature. The law provides for alternate steps that will not create hardships on cattle producers. These steps will be explained at the proposed community meetings.

The Milam County Farm Bureau, with V. L. Angell, President, arranged for the county meeting through its program chairman, John A. Smith. Refreshments were served by the refreshment committee with Mrs. V. L. Angell and Miss Lenora Bickett in charge.

Milam ASCS Report

By Milam County ASCS

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, January 9, announced the national average support price for the 1962 crops of feed grains, as follows: Corn $1.20 per bushel, Grain Sorghum $1.93 per hundredweight and Oats $.62 per bushel. In most cases, the 1962 support prices are the same as the substaintial increases above the 1960 levels.

Secretary Freman said: "The 1962 price support levels should make it possible for us to maintain and increase the farm income gain of 1961, while we move forward with long - range revisions of our farm laws which will permit further progress toward our goal of parity in income of farm people.

"For the shorter period in the months ahead, farmers as a result of the extension of the feed grain program to 1962 crops have the opportunity not only to hold the ground they gained in 1961 but to make further advances toward the goal of higher farm income and lower Federal expenses. Participation in the 1961 feed grain program was great enough to bring about a reversal in the buildup of feed grain stocks in Government hands for the first time in nine years despite record yields."

The signup period for farmers under the 1962 wheat stabilization and feed grain programs will begin February 5 and run through March 30 for corn, grain, sorghum and spring - planted barley and wheat.

Feed grain legislation provides that the Secretary of Agriculture may set the support level for corn at not less than 65 per cent of parity for the 1962 crop. The $1.20 per bushel support price for the 1962 crop corn was determined as the price that would effectively meet the objectives of the feed grain program.

COTTON REPORT

Trading was active in the late producing area. There was a good demand for the current ginnings. Shipper buying increased. Domestic mill inquiries were not too numerous. Foreign interest was slightly strong. Clear, cold weather prevailed.

Middling 1" cotton prices were steady during the week, quoted Thursday, January 18, at 33.05 cents in Dallas, 33.25 cents in Galveston and Houston and 32.85 cents in Lubbock, unchanged from last Thursday. One year ago prices were 29.75 cents in Dallas and Galveston, 29.50 cents in Houston and 29.00 cents in Lubbock. Market activity was fairly strong in the current harvesting sections.

Producers offered freely and the larger percent of the ginnings moved into trade channels. The demand was best for the lower colored grades with prices strengthened from around $1.25 to $5.00 per bale in some places. Shipper demand was fair to very good with buying largely for current requirements. Cotton of good character and Micronaire remained in best demand but offerings were light and prices curtailed some buying. The off quality cotton was very much in demand and many shippers were buying in fair to moderate volume.

Weather conditions improved this week; skies were generally clear and very little moisture fell. Temperatures were below normal most of the week as cold fronts moved through the area. Farming activities were limited in most sections. As daytime temperatures moderated, producers were rushing harvesting of cotton remaining in the fields with most of the activity in the northern counties of the Lubbock area. Most gins have caught up with their backlog of seed cotton. A week or ten days of favorable weather should see most of the crop harvested. Moisture is needed for land preparation in many counties as high winds had sapped the surface dry.

The tour will start in Victoria and Corpus Christi on January 29 and will close with visits to Beaumont and Port Arthur on February 9. Various chambers of commerce, civic and sports groups are cooperating with the Colt .45s in making arrangements in the various cities.

Field manager Harry Craft and four Colt .45 regulars will spearhead the tour. "The purpose of the tour is to stimulate interest throughout our area for major league baseball," said Kirksey, "and to help get the fans acquainted with our players and the Colt .45s. Our surveys indicate that approximately 50 percent of our attendance will be from outside Houston."

By Vern Sanford

Although you don't see many cigarette smokers who roll their own anymore, the fad of "do it yourself" is just hitting the shotgun field in a big way. More and more hunters are loading their own shells.

There are many reasons for the boom in handloading. For one it is a fascinating hobby which can be enjoyed at home. For another, shotgunning no longer is just a fall hunting sport. There are many hunters who bang away at clay targets on skeet and trap ranges throughout the year.

But probably the primary reason for its phenomenal growth is the economy angle. Handload ammo is cheaper than that bought off the shelves of sporting goods stores.

A shooter who burns up much ammunition has found that he can pay for a handloading outfit in a couple of seasons or less. And since the equipment is durable and will last indefinitely, it isn't long before he's reaping the full benefit of the savings.

More than 50 per cent savings is effected by the hunter who loads his own ammo. The reloader can put out a box of ammo for something like $1.30 to $1.50, depending of course on what kind of load is preferred.

Good handloading tool will cost between $30 and $100. Cheaper tools handle only one size shell, but the more expensive ones take interchangeable dies which permit loading of all types of shells, from .410 to 10 - guage mangum.

With one of the better tools even a person just learning the operation can turn out two boxes of ammunition in an hour's time.

Components necessary for shotgun shell reloading are primers, powder, shot and wadding.

Used commercial hulls can be reloaded from one to three times. Nowadays hulls are hard to come by. Gun club members keep their ranges picked clean. However, the hulls alone can be purchased for about $3 per hundred. These are new, primed cases.

Components come cheaper, naturally, when bought in bulk form. Primers list at $14.95 for a box of 1,000. Shot comes in 25 - pound bags at $7.50 per bag. Powder is available in different sized lots. One - half pound sells for $1.80; three - pound kegs cost $9 and 12 - pound kegs are $28.

Over - shot wads are priced at about $1.65 to $2.15 per 1,000, while filler wads range from $2.65 to $3.25 for 500. (all these are listed prices and may be slightly higher or lower, depending upon the retail sources.)

It takes almost four 25 - pound bags of shot and about three pounds of powder, to reload 1,000 shells.

Shotgun shells are easier to reload than rifle ammo because measurement don't have to be exact.

In a rifle load excessive pressures can build up when even a fraction of a grain of excess powder is poured into the case. But since the shotgunner used an altogether different kind of powder, such minute measurement isn't necessary. Nevertheless, anyone handloading shotgun shells should use common judgment.

Probably the best booklet on handloading is "Reloader's Handbook." It costs $2 and is available at most sporting goods stores.

This book gives the lowdown on all kinds of handloading -- shotgun rifle and pistol. It outlines the exact procedures for handloading and includes charts covering all kinds of different loads for every guage of shotgun.

For safety's sake, as well as tidiness, most handloaders carefully pack their equipment away in a box, when not in use, and bring it out on the kitchen table only when they are ready to work.

An experienced handloader not only can turn out dependable ammo, but often his product exceeds in performance that which can be bought across the counter

TELEPHONE TALK

by C. L. Carson, Manager

ARE YOU HARD TO FIND?

Modern telephone service includes listings for teenagers and other members of the family. If your last name is different from the person who has the telephone where you live, you may be missing many phone calls. Make it easy for people to get in touch with you.

Additional listings are inexpensive. For a small monthly charge, you can list other members of the family or business associates, thereby increasing the value of your telephone service. The cost is only 30c a month for residence phones and 75c for business telephones.

To have your own separate listing in the directory, just pick up the phone and call the business office telephone number OX 7-4601. Mrs. Barron and Mrs. Rentchler will be glad to help you.

FROM THE MOUTHS OF BABES

After touring one of our central offices, a second grade class was given an assignment by their teacher. They were asked to write about the things they had learned that day.

One little girl entitled her composition, "You Could Never Without Your Telephone." And that pretty well sums up the telephone' role in today's busy living routine, whether it's here in Cameron or in New York or Chicago

She's right, you know. You could never without your telephone . . .you could never call a neighbor to exchange recipes or call for repairs or service, arrange get - togethers on the spur of the moment, chat with your family or friends located far from home.

Day in and day out, the telephone is a constant and faithful companion, giving you service that's useful pleasant and necessary. Nothing else you use so often does so much. Or, to put it more simply -- you could never without your telephone.

TOGETHERNESS BY TELEPHONE

One of the nice things about the telephone business is that you never know when your customers will find a new use for any given telephone service.

Several years ago we made it possible for businessmen to conduct meetings by means of a Long Distance conference call. Well, recently, we received a letter from a happy grandmother who tried the conference call for another reason.

"Our family was widely scattered," sh ewrote, " a son in California, and daughters in Florida and New York. Though we often phoned, I never thought we'd all be together again. Then I heard about the conference call.

"All I did was give the operator everyone's name and phone number. In a short time she had us all hooked together on a single phone call. I can't tell you the thrill it gave us all."

Togetherness is easy with your telephone. Economical too. Especially when you call by number. You save even more when you call Long Distance on Sundays or after 6 p. m., weekdays.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

The work is expected to be started within two weeks and completed within 90 days. The work in Phase One includes location of existing buildings and other facilities which have a potential as a fallout shelter. Tabulation of basic data on these facilities will permit evaluation of their protective characteristics.

Subsequent phases of the program will include marking, with the owner's consent, those facilit space requirements for use as public fallout shelters and the preparation of plans and estimates of costs for improvements, where necessary, of facilities which do not meet requirements but have potential as a public shelter.

Data developed by the survey will be provided local Civil Defense authorities for use in preparation of shelter utilization and Civil Defense plans.

A Voting Year . . . Pay Poll Tax

Poll tax payments in both city and county are far short of normal totals with only five days left in which to pay them.

During a big election year, a field of gubernatorial candidates, a contest in both state senate and representative posts for Milam County and mayoral and three council posts are all up for consideration.

That is a lot of decisions for the considerable few who thus far have taken the time to pay their poll taxes.

And it takes both city and state poll taxes to vote in all elections. Without a city poll tax, one cannot vote in the city election.

Trite things are usually said in appeals for interest in elections. Since elections are held often, particularly in Texas, repetitions is the reason.

It is not trite to say, regardless how often said, that your vote is your most precious commodity. It is representative of your freedom of choice. If taken away, your freedom goes with it.

It is not unusual for Americans to give away that privilege by default. Not misuse, but disuse. And once neglected, the vote is less than free because it is forgotten. Some say "My vote won't count; it's only one." But votes occrue by units of ones, not thousands or tens of thonsands if properly used and invoked.

But in Texas, before you can vote, you must register. So pay your poll tax. You face some major decisions in 1962.

'Capt. Eddie's' Conservatism . . .

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern Air Lines, last weekend extolled some old - fashioned virtues in an attack on 1960's government.

In the process, he asked for elimination of the income tax, return to isolationism, a willingness to die for the USA, and many other heroic things.

He cited President Wilson's World War I leadership, then seemed to ask that the United States return to the status and thinking of World War I. Of course, Mr. Wilson was the organizer of the League of Nations, predecessor of the UN, and a believer in "open covenants openly arrived at."

Rickenbacker is a distinguished American, having shown his heroism in World War I by scoring 26 kills in air combat. And he survived a long ordeal of open sea exposure in the Pacific during World War II. And he has added to these laurels with great success in air service.

However, we cannot agree with Mr. Rickenbacker's appeal for a complete reversal of direction, though a slowdown is in order. We cannot ignore the feeling that his conservatism wishes not only to reverse trends, but wants to turn back the clock.

This neither nation nor the world can do. The rush of history is upon us.

Arbor Day Cited In Communities By Planting Trees

The Milano, Gause, Branchville and Maysfield 4-H clubs conducted Arbor Day Programs and Ceremonies last Friday.

The programs and ceremonies of the planting of trees were planned through the local extension office in cooperation with the Texas Forest Service and the State Commission if Education.

According to J. W. Edgar, State Commissioner of Education, with a growing population and trend toward industrialization in Texas, and it is more important than ever that we made every effort to preserve our natural resources. The planting and cultivation of forest, shade, and ornamental trees throughout the state contriubted to the conservation of Natural resources.

Arbor Day provides teachers and students with an opportunity to participate actively in the Texas reforestration program, as well as to beautify their own school campus.

Th designation of Arbor Day and the ceremonies conducted in local schools each January have made important contributions to conservation education in the state.

Highway Policy Matter Settled

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — A highway policy matter which has plagued both Houses of the Legislature for 10 years was settled when the House of Representatives passed a Farm-to - Market road bill introduced by Sen. Neveille Colson of Navasota and Rep. Grainger McIlhany of Wheeler.

Senate already had approved the bill by a 26-2 vote.

At first, it looked like the House Agriculture Subcommittee, dominated by rural representatives, would succeed in pushing through a modified version of the bill by Rep. Max Carriker of Roby. His proposal was to space out the switch of funds from farm - to - market road construction to maintenance over 10 years.

House Agriculture Committee approved Carriker's bill unanimously until Gov. Price Daniel attended a final hearing with President J. H. West of the Texas Farm Bureau, Executive Vice President Callan Graham of the Texas Good Roads Association, Highway Chairman Herb Petry Jr. and a dozen members of the County Judges and Commissioners Association.

After their urging, the House Agriculture Committee reversed its original decision and voted 10-9 to table the Carriker version and submit the Colson bill, which reduces the annual appropriation for rural road construction by about $17,500,000.

When the Farm - to - Market road bill becomes effective about May 1, it will make these provisions:

1. Restoration of the $15,000,000 appropriation from general State taxes to the Colson - Briscoe farm-to-market road program for the year starting Sept. 1, 1962.

2. A flat instruction for the State Highway Department to build $23,000,000 worth of newly - designated farm - to - market roads a year from now on, using the $15,000,000, plus Federal aid of $10,000,000 a year.

3. Allocation of half the surplus in the road bond assumption fund--which comes from one fourth of the gasoline sales tax -- to maintenance of farm - to - market roads in the State system. That will be $16,500,000 the first year graduatlly increasing as gasoline sales tax revenue rise.

4. Freeing an equal $17,500,000 in the State Highway Fund, now being used for rural road maintenance, for construction and improvement of secondary and primary highways.

5. Application of the balance in the farm - to - market road fund (between $17,500,000 and $20,000,000 in the 1962 - 63 fiscal year) toward improvement of existing F-M roads, which need some 11,000 miles of repairs.

6. Agreement by the State Highway Commission to raise its goal from 35,000 to 50,000 miles of Farm-to - market roads.

This legislation accomplishes the long - time goal of the Highway Commission and Good Roads Association: To give annual construction boosts -- starting at $17,500,000 a year -- to the highways in the State system above the F-M classification and below the Interstate classification.

WHERE'S THE MONEY COMING FROM?

Gov. Price Daniel's proposals that the 57th Legislature approve appropriations of $300,000 for tourist advertising, $100,000 expansion in the juvenile parole system and $150,000 for repair to the San Jacinto Monument seemed to be in danger when Rep. James M. Cotten of Weatherford got the House to endorse appropriation of $220,000 for special session expenses.

According to the State Comptroller's estimate, this would leave less than $300,000 for the governor's projects. But Governor Daniel powwowed with Speaker James A. Turman and Senator Charles Herring, as well as State Treasurer Jesse James.

He reported that James' first report on anticipated income from the Escheat Enforcement Act, submitted since the Comptroller made his estimate, lists more than $2,000,000 in reports tabulated to date.

"I have asked the Comptroller to consider this," Daniel said, "and I believe it will be possible for him to raise his estimate enough to take care of the recommendations before the Legislature."

The Senate Finance Committee came up with a compromise bill authorizing $200,000 for tourist advertising, $75,000 for monument repairs, $65,000 for the juvenile parole system, plus $79,600 for a marine laboratory at Seabrook.

DOMITORY SUITS ANSWERED

Two motions to dismiss a dormitory integration case involving the University of Texas were filed in the U. S. District Court at Austin.

First one was filed by Attorney General Will Wilson, whose office requires him to represent the state university in court. Second came from Edward Clark and Franklin W. Denius of Austin and Leon Jaworski of Houston, attorneys employed by UT's board of regents.

Board Chairman Thornton Hardie of El Paso said the regents hired additional attorneys since Wilson is a candidate for governor and may be unable to give the case the attention it deserves. Wilson referred to Hardie's statement as "arrogant," and vowed he'll defend the case as his constitutional duty.

Integration suit was filed in November by three Negro students at the University. They asked that racial segregation in university dormitories be abolished with "all deliberate speed."

CONFERENCE

The fourth annual confernce for County Judges and Commissioners will be held February 18 - 20 in the Memorial Student Center on the campus of Texas A & M College.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Wonders How City People Ever Got Along Without Urban Affairs Department

Dear editar:

I was visited by a friend from a big city recently and he was all excited over the latest development out of Washington.

"Say," he said "did you know Washington is thinking about establishing a new Cabinet post, the Department of Urban Affairs?"

"Nope", I said, "What for?"

"Why, to help the cities solve their problems, like you farmers have got a Department of Agriculture," he said. Then he went on to explain that cities have grown by leaps and bounds in recent years, problems have piled up, like traffic congestion, noise, inadequate police protection, water shortages, classroom shortages, worn - out city streets, slums, crime, high taxes, etc.

"You name the city," he said, "big or little, and it's got problems. Big problems. There just isn't enough money coming in to satisfy all the demands and needs of city people, and the bigger the city, the worse the problem. The Department of Urban Affairs is the answer."

"Why, that's fine," I said, looking at him out of the corner of my eye, " wonder why somebody didn't think of that a long time ago? You city folks have been asleep. Why, us farmers thought up the Department of Agriculture to solve our problems years ago. In fact the Department of Agriculture is celebrating its 100th annivesary this year, and where do you think farming would be today if we hadn't had that Department?"

"That's right," he said, "but we're catching on. We're going to get some help finally."

"Why," I said, seeing he wasn't catching on, "you simply can't turn all the problems over to the Department of Agriculture. You take cities. You've got a surplus of cities, haven't you? Must have, since no city government is breaking even, they can't quite make ends meet, population piling up in huge surpluses, labor costs are high, street paving equipment wearing out and no money to replace it with, and things like that. It's sure clear to me that what cities need is a Department of Urban Affairs to handle their problems. It's the only answer."

"Say," he said, "are you kidding me ....."

But I told him I had to go feed my chickens and would see him later.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Questionnaires Due January 31 In VA Offices

P. J. Mims, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco reminded pension recipients today that veterans or dependents who do not return their VA pension income questionnaires by January 31 will not receive any further checks and may owe the Government money.

We have received over 10,000 qustionnaire but some 3,0000 still have not been returned to the Waco VA Office," Mims said.

If they do not submit this income information they will be required to repay all pension received during 1961 and the first month in 1962.

Mims pointed out that the questionnaire carries a printed warning which reads. "Important. Failure to return this card before January 31, 1962, will result in discontinuance of payment. You would also be required to pay back all pension you received last year."

Since the pension is paid only to those veterans, their widows, dependent parents, or minor children whose incomes are below certain limits the VA is required by law to receive an income report each year to justify the payments.

Mims emphasized that all blanks on the card must be filled in wherever applicable and that the card be signed before it is sent back to the Veterans Administration.

Employer Must Issue W-2 Form By January 31

Employers, Internal Revenue Service has a reminder for you -- Employees should receive two copies of a Withholding Statement, Form W-2, on or before Wednesday, January 31, 1962.

A. P. Andrews, Administrative Officer of the Internal Revenue Service at Temple, said, "This statement shows the total wages paid and the income tax and social security tax withheld if any, during the calendar year 1961."

Total wages shown on an employee's W-2 must include amounts received as sick pay from his employer, even though no tax has been withheld on such sick pay. Sick pay is not required to be shown separately.

If it becomes necessary to correc ta W-2 after it has been given to an employee, a revised statement must be issued and marked "corrected by employer."

Taxpayer assistance time is every Monday 8:15 to 12 noon.

THE POINTER'S EAR is attentive; nerve and muscle alert to the TRAINER'S VOICE of COMMAND. Without willing submission to guidance and discipline he could not be trained to be a good bird dog. Otherwise, he might expend his life chasing field-mice or running meaningless trails that lead to nothing.

MORE IMPORTANT STILL: have you learned that God alone is your rightful Master? Do you daily seek to relate yourself to Him in such way that He may lead you "in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake"? Do you realize that His every command is also a loving entreaty for your welfare? Is your ear attentive, your will submissive?

HIS WRITTEN WORD — which none can destroy, or rightfully replace — is intended as "a lamp unto your feet, and a light unto your path."

HIS CHURCH — which shall always endure, is for your fellowship and inspiration as you seek to attain the purpose which God has for you.

"Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ"
I Corinthians 3:11
